Selectmen's Meeting

NAME CHANGE HEARING

A hearing held at the request of Brad L. Barrows of 32 Mechanic Street to change the business known as Brad's Inc. to an individually owned concern known as Brad's was held with no objectors present. Selectman John DeCosta took the matter under advisement to be considered by the full Board. Chairman William Hubbard and R. William Blasdale were not present at the meeting.

RESIGNED

Sheila Mitchell submitted a letter of resignation as Recreation Director. She stated that, because of a recent business venture, she lacks the time to devote to the position which she has held for 4 years. She expressed her thanks to the Sports & Athletic

Committee for their cooperation during this period.

A letter was received from William Quinlan, Chairman of the Sports & Athletic Committee, advising the Board of Sheila Mitchell's resignation. Dr. Quinlan requested that Sheila be publicly commended for the excellent work she has done in developing the Sports & Athletic Program.

LETTER OF APPRECIATION

Assistant Chief of Police Paul A. Arruda of Wauseon, Ohio sent the Board of Selectmen a letter of appreciation for Mattapoisett police assistance to his father on October 30th of this year. Arruda commended Officers Zimmer, Vieira, Davis, Marcosa, Caciclas and Chief Tuttle for responding to a call at Mr. Arruda's father's home.

A Jewelry and Gift Table under the auspices of Mary Sylvia and Mary Hales will merrily share honors with Bobbie Ketchel's White Elephants. No one wants to miss one of Mary Hillman's chicken pie luncheons, and we're sure you won't. There will be two sittings, one at 11:30 and a second at 1:00 P.M. A door prize will be given to some lucky diner. For tickets call 758-2382.

Come, shop with us and visit with your friends and neighbors. They'll be at St. Anthony's on December 2.

Rochester Fair

There will be something for everyone at the Rochester First Congregational Vestry on Saturday, December 2nd. The Christmas Sale opens at 2:30, offering quilts, aprons, gifts, handknits, novelties and trimmings, home-made cakes and pies and candy, a few "almost-new" children's clothes and white elephants.

Come early - enjoy a good home cooked supper later, served family style 5 to 7.

Save hundreds of dollars in home fuel costs annually as thousands of C & D marketed woodburning fireplace stoves do. Unlike energy wasting fireplaces that send heat up the chimney, the scientifically designed HEARTH MATE radiates and circulates enough controlled warmth to amply heat a six room home in winter. Over 60% savings in home heating costs are the rule . . . not the exception.

- * Burns 80% less wood than your own fireplace.
- * No flue pipe to install, clean, or worry about.
- * Burns safely all night.
- * Simmers, heats, or cooks entire meals.
- * Ultimate security during power failures.
- * Superbly crafted from attractive "black iron."
- * Easily installs or removes in minutes to almost any fireplace by anyone. No fireplace alterations.
- * Can pay for itself in less than one season.
- * Certified by national testing laboratory.

Readings at Tabor

AUTHOR OF BEST SELLER
TO SPEAK AT TABOR

John Irving, author of best seller "The World According to Garp", will do readings from his works on Wednesday, November 29th, at 7:30 P.M. in the Lyndon South Auditorium at Tabor Academy. Irving, a resident of Putney, Vermont, has also written three earlier novels entitled Setting Free the Bears, The Water-Method Man, and The 158-Pound Marriage.

In discussing his latest work, Mr. Irving says, "I wanted to write a novel about how individuals are victimized by groups; the chief theme in The World According to Garp is that the world isn't safe." Mr. Irving goes on to say, "There is a consciousness in the book of wanting the comic ef-

STUDENTS OF VOICE RECITAL

Students of voice at Southeastern Massachusetts University will present a recital, "We're Singing Our Christmas Wishes", on Sunday, December 3, at 3 P.M. in the Recital Hall of the College of Visual and Performing Arts (Group 6 Building). The concert is free and open to the public.

Under the direction of Jacqueline Cobert, SMU lecturer in music, the students will sing a variety of Christmas selections, including songs in foreign languages, duets, quartets, and ensemble pieces.

In addition, a men's trio organized by three SMU voice students will make its debut at the recital. Douglas Medeiros, Anthony Nunes, and Emile Fournier, who hope to perform together professionally, will offer special arrangements of Christmas and other songs.

VFW AUXILIARY DONATES JOBST PUMP

The Women's Auxiliary of the Benjamin Cushing Post #2425 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Marion, recently donated a Jobst Extremity Pump to Tobey Hospital for the Rehabilitation Services Department. This equipment is used for edema of the arm or leg. Post-mastectomy patients, persons afflicted with leg ulcers, and others with varicose veins are among those who may benefit from this new therapeutic device.

Mrs. Ellen Smith of Wareham, Auxiliary Treasurer and Rehabilitation Chairman, and Mrs. Pauline Baxter of Buzzards Bay, Auxiliary Vice-President and Hospital Chairman, made the presentation to Tobey Hospital as part of the Auxiliary's on-going community service program. The Presi-

BATIKS AND TIE DYES BY CHARLOTTE PURRINGTON AT MARION ART CENTER

Indigo dye may have inspired the phrase "true blue" and it is the medium used by Charlotte Purrington when she paints with dyes and cloth. Her show, which opens Friday, December 1, in the Cecil Clark Davis Gallery at the Marion Art Center, displays her extraordinary ability as a designer of batik quilts, clothes, yardage, pillows and wall panels. "Cloth dyed with indigo is very light and wash-fast....When I work with indigo I appreciate the mono-chromatic directness. When I work with fiber-reactive, direct, acid and other dyes I appreciate the wide variety of hues and intensities, the exuberance that is possible."

Charlotte, a native of Mattapoisett and now attending East Carolina University in the Masters program, first acquired her interest in natural dyes while in Peru with the Peace Corps. She has had extensive experience as an illustrator and teacher, and many will remember her brilliantly colored quilts which won Sidewalk Arts Festival prizes in 1977 and 1978.

Charlotte's quilts have been exhibited in many galleries and arts and craft festivals in New England and the southeast. Her intricate stitchery - all her quilts are hand stitched - and exciting design and execution of the batik dye process will fascinate both veteran needleworkers and casual viewers.

The Gallery is open to the public daily 9-12 and 1-5; closed Tuesday, Wednesday and Sunday mornings. This show opens Friday, December 1, and continues through Friday, December 22. No admission fee. For more information call 748-1266.

STUDENTS CREATE PUPPET EXPLORERS

In correlation with a social studies unit - investigating explorers and their lives - fourth grade students at Memorial School, Rochester, have created their own puppet explorers during art classes.

Editorial, D.C.J.

We have begun to reap the benefit of our socialistic rule of the past 35 years which has taken a firmer grip with each toppling of an old concept. It once was a basic training, parent to child, to discriminate among associates. We were told, "You are known and will be judged by the company you keep". We were instructed to be self-reliant because we were a society composed of individuals each in charge of his own destiny and responsible for his own conduct - success or failure. These were basic rules of life - tools for the survival of a society governed by people who could make important decisions on the crossroads of their own lives.

But, one by one, the old concepts must fall if socialism is to prosper. That ideology depends on the downgrading of independent thought in favor of collective direction. Parents would not openly instruct their children today to discriminate among associates. It is against the law. School instruction, of course, is not only not teaching these basic rules but is shuffling pupils into neighborhoods where they will enjoy the experiences of "street culture", drug experimentation, and other benefits of collective experience.

The result is obvious. There is a revolution among the very young. There is also a completely different set of values and attitudes concerning the individual. We have downgraded the individual. We do not deviate from the mass will.

The horror of Jonesville is called the largest mass suicide in history. I disagree. The fact that this large group would leave the United States to follow a leader in which they placed absolute allegiance and trust is significant. The fact that they would give up responsibility for their own destiny and that of their young children is a telling condemnation of their grasp of the basic tools of life - of survival. As you read the stories, the picture emerges of a cross section of Americans. Perhaps they might be said to be motivated by their zeal in their new religious experience. Unless, however, this zeal has driven all the adults temporarily insane, which is unlikely, it appears that the Jones people lacked the judgement to discriminate and lacked the strength to be individuals and live by their own concepts. The frightening thing is that this is a growing problem. Is there any among us who have not been approached by a personable young moonie "selling" peanuts in a parking lot? These seemingly bright kids are easy prey for their mind control master Dr. Moon. Stronger by far than their parents, Moon is wise in the ways of collective control of a mind taught to reject selective individual action.

Far from mass suicide, the events in Jonesville are the end result of 3 decades of socialistic experiment in the United States. The children of the Jones people were murdered, pure and simple, by their parents. The adults were the manslaughter victims of their leader simply because they lacked the basic mental preparation to make a discriminatory judgement. In fact, the socialists of the United States can well be named accomplices in the crime. If people lack the ability to make their own judgements, they are easy slaves. Slavery is what socialism is all about. It can not exist in a free society of strong individual thinkers.

Are we on the road to Jonesville, U.S.A.?

"Very Good Eddie"

Jerome Kern's musical comedy, "Very Good Eddie", will be presented by the Southeastern Massachusetts University Theatre Company on December 7, 8, 9 and 10 at 8 P.M. in the SMU auditorium.

The play, directed by Angus Bailey, will take audiences back to the 1913 years of high-button shoes, ankle-length dresses, parasols and gallant young men in starched collars and waistcoats.

The play revolves around two couples: the very short Eddie Kettle and his towering wife, Georgianna, and the very tall Percy Darling and his petite wife, Elsie. Both couples are on their way to Honeymoon Inn its comedic dances and abstract modern works. One of the delightful aspects of this group is its ability to keep the audience as well as the dancers on the move. They have performed throughout the State at colleges, junior and senior high schools which have reaped accolades for this multi-versatile company. "Dance Collective" consists of six choreographer/dancers and their guest artists whose unusual and intense working structure produces original exciting dance.

One of the dancers to be seen will be a summer resident of Wareham, Miss Ruth Wheeler, who aptly displays her sense of humor in her choreography of the "Flying Leap of the Flea". Miss Wheeler graduated in dance from Mills College, California and has been seen on WGBH. She has taught dance to children and adults for more than ten years at DeCordova Museum and Lexington School of Modern Dance.

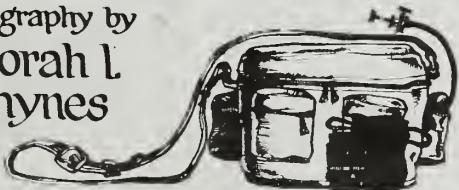

The Scholarship Pageant has chosen this select company to sponsor as one of many events to increase the scholarship program of the future.

occasions by the combined Southeastern Massachusetts University Chorus and Somerset Choral Society. The first concert by the 50-voice combined choruses will be on Sunday, December 10, at 2 P.M. at the First Congregational Church, 21 June Street, Fall River. The concert will be repeated in the SMU auditorium on Monday, December 11, at 8 P.M.

Under the direction of Bruce Maggs of Somerset and Robert Adams of SMU, the choruses will perform Daniel Pinkham's "Christmas Cantata", Benjamin Britten's "Rejoice in the Lamb", and several short choral works appropriate to the holiday season. The program will also include selections for brass choir played by the Somerset Brass Ensemble.

The cantata "Rejoice in the Lamb", says Robert Adams, "contains some of the finest passages that Benjamin Britten has set to music." The piece's words are from a long poem written by Christopher Smart, an eighteenth-century poet who, while deeply religious, was thought to be rather unbal-

RECITAL OF OPERA SCENES

A recital of opera scenes will be presented at Southeastern Massachusetts University by SMU opera workshop students on Wednesday, December 13, at 4:30 P.M. in the Recital Hall of the College of Visual and Performing Arts (Group 6 Building). The program is free and open to the public.

"These are students who are just learning how to sing and move at the same time," says Director Jacqueline Cobert. "They're learning to time their movements, to memorize material in foreign languages as well as in English."

CHANNEL 2 HIGHLIGHTS

November 29, Channel 2, 8:00 P.M., GREAT PERFORMANCES, Balanchine, Pt. III. A special tribute to George Balanchine, considered to be the world's greatest living choreographer. This special ballet performance will feature the stars of the New York City Ballet, including Mikhail Baryshnikov (making his debut with the company), Suzanne Farrell and Peter Martins. One hour.

December 2, Channel 2, 7:30 P.M., SPECIAL: A CALLAS CELEBRATION. Maria Callas, the diva who made opera come alive and who made "news" for journalists, music critics and gossip columnists, is the subject of a 90-minute film entitled CALLAS: A DOCUMENTARY, which airs at 7:30 P.M. It is followed by a Callas concert taped in Germany in 1959 in which she sings arias from several operas. To finish off the Callas tribute, Channel 2 will be airing "Medea", an exciting film version of the Greek tragedy directed by Pier Paolo Pasolini. Total, four and 1/2 hours.

December 3, Channel 2, 8:00 P.M., CHRISTMAS EVE ON SESAME STREET. Trying to find out how Santa Claus gets down

December 6, Channel 2, 8:00 P.M., DEBUT: THE COUSTEAU ODYSSEY, The Blind Prophets of Easter Island. Jacques and Philippe Cousteau explore Easter Island, a thriving civilization centuries ago, which, isolated from human contact for over a thousand years, fell victim to its own excesses of over-population and exhaustion of natural resources. Today its giant stone figures stand as witnesses to an ancient society that exploded in violence and cannibalism. One hour.

December 6, Channel 2, 9:00 P.M., DEBUT: GREAT PERFORMANCES, Mourning Becomes Electra, Part I. The Homecoming. Part I of a five-part dramatization of the Eugene O'Neill play. First episode finds members of the Mannon household, including mother Christine (Joan Hackett) and the daughter Lavinia (Roberta Maxwell) awaiting the return of the father, Ezra Mannon, from the Civil War. Christine and her lover, Captain Brant, are planning to murder Ezra upon his return. One hour.

Breault, Comptroller, were among 135 Directors and Accountants representing Senior Aides Projects throughout the United States attending a two-day conference at the Wash-

Council of Senior Citizens stressing Fiscal Management and the advantages of hiring the older workers.

Mr. Alves represented the recently fund-by Coastline Elderly Services, which is a non-profit, private agency working with the local Councils on Aging and Aging Network Agencies to provide services to our community's elderly.

The Senior Aides Program, funded under the Older Americans Act, is a nationwide Senior Citizens Community Service Corps, sponsored by the National Council of Senior Citizens for the U.S. Department of Labor. It places thousands of older workers in community service employment. Unemployed persons, 55 years of age or older, with limited incomes are hired to work part-time at prevailing wages in useful pursuits.

In view of the current economic situation,
Alves noted that many of our older citizens have been forced back into the job market in an effort to maintain their homes.

The Camerata's program, "A Medieval Christmas", has been a favorite of Boston concert-goers in the past. This year's performance celebrates Joel Cohen's tenth year as music director of the group.

"It had great playing and singing," said the Boston Globe's music critic of "A Medieval Christmas". "It put on a great show, was full of musicological beans, set the toes a-tapping, and said wise things about the richness that lies within the simplest musical materials."

The program is a sampler of medieval European songs and readings praising the birth of Christ. Many of the songs have been recomposed and arranged from sketchy ancient scores by Cohen, an energetic composer and musician who has been called "a splendid creator of music theatre".

"A Medieval Christmas" was recorded by the Camerata for Nonesuch Records in 1975, and since then the recording has become an

The Boston Camerata was founded in 1954, and for many years it was the performing extension of the Collection of Musical Instruments at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. Since 1975, the Camerata has been based at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston. During the summer, the Camerata functions as a summer music school in Cordes, France.

Music Director Cohen studied music at Harvard with Randall Thompson and in Paris with Nadia Boulanger. He has taught and lectured at many east coast colleges and has recorded and given concerts extensively in both Europe and America. Cohen sings baritone with the Camerata and plays the lute and
